Judge Discharges Costello Jury For Failure To Agree

Contempt Case To Be Retried

New York (AP) — The government failed by an eyelash yesterday in another attempt to trap Frank Costello, this time for contempt of the Senate.

A tired, deadlocked jury reportedly stood 11 to one for conviction when it finally gave up after 23 hours and 20 minutes.

It was so hopelessly split, however, that it couldn't agree on a single one of 11 contempt charges. They were lodged against Costello as a result of last year's Kefauver crime committee hearings, which millions watched on television.

The charges were based on Costello's refusal to answer questions and for twice walking out of the Senate.

U.S. Attorney Myles J. Lane said the government will try Costello again as soon as possible.

Costello, who faced up to 11 years in prison and $11,000 in fines if convicted yesterday, was asked by newsmen how he felt about the hung jury.

"I feel all right," he rasped in his chronic croak.

Happy, they wanted to know? "I have never been unhappy," Costello replied, keeping a poker-face.

His defense attorney, tall, gray George Wolf, said:

"I'll be very happy to re-try this case whenever I'm able to."

Wolf won a deadlock without ever putting a single witness on the stand in Costello's behalf. His defense Monday took only a very brief time.

It was the fourth time in 25 years that Costello has sidestepped Federal government attempts to put him behind bars on one charge or another. He has faced running, stolen jewel and tax charges.

The only time he ever tripped was in 1915, when the State of New York jailed him for 10 months for carrying a gun. In his 20s then, Costello grew into a shadowy middle-aged underworld figure without ever going to prison again.

He will be 61 years old Jan. 26. The contempt jury had the case almost a full day before Foreman Harold Miller gave in. He told the court the 10 men and two housewives "have reached a hopeless deadlock."

Costello was continued in $5,000 bail. Legal preliminaries for a retrial of the contempt case were set for Jan. 18.

30 Injured In Train Wreck

Norwalk, O. (AP) — A freight train rammed the rear of a New York Central passenger train 12 miles southeast of here yesterday, injuring some 30 passengers. Only one was hurt seriously.

The St. Louis to Cleveland passenger train on the NYC's Big Four division stopped a mile and a half southwest of New London for repair of a broken reverse lever, a railroad spokesman said. The freight, he added, apparently ran through a block signal and at a speed of about 15 miles an hour piled into the passenger train, known as "the Clevelanders."

Commiss Hint At Complete Breakdown Of Truce Talks

Munsan, Korea, Wednesday, (AP)—Communist radio broadcasts today hinted at a complete breakdown in Korean truce talks after Red negotiators balked again yesterday at handing over South Koreans in the North Korean Army.

The "voice of the United Nations command" in a Tokyo radio broadcast last night predicted the Reds would continue a "blockade of armistice progress" until new high level instructions were received.

Couple Expects Twins; Stork Leaves Quads

Nashville, Ark. (AP) — A dark-haired 38-year-old farm wife, who picked cotton until seven weeks ago, was reported cheerful and "doing fine" yesterday after giving birth to quadruplets.

So were the four little babies, three boys and a girl. They were brought to a hospital here by their currently-unemployed father, Leonard Ponder, 41.

The quartet was born Monday night at the home of Ponder's mother, Mrs. Nan Ponder, 2 1/2 miles north of Murfreesboro, Ark., and some 20 miles from Nashville, in southwest Arkansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ponder, who'd been expecting twins, live in a nearby four-room house with seven of eight other living children.

Mrs. Ponder remained yesterday at her mother-in-law's home while the babies were in incubators at the Nashville hospital. They were full-term infants, and each weighed around 3 1/2 pounds. They haven't been named and the parents seemed in no hurry to do so.

The blue-eyed mother was described as unworried by either the multiple arrivals or her husband's jobless status. He does farm work and odd jobs.

Admits Gambling

Washington, (AP)—Maj. Robert J. Barrett acknowledged yesterday that "eight or 10 men" grew rich operating numbers rackets in Washington while he was superintendent of police here. His testimony before Senate crime investigators drew a storm of reproach from Senator Neely (D-WVa.), who said he did not believe such conditions could exist "without co-operation of the police."

Draemel Quits As Member Of Fine Cabinet

Harrisburg (AP) — M. F. Draemel yesterday resigned his $15,000 a year post as secretary of forests and waters.

The 67-year-old retired Admiral denied a report he would take over as executive director of the Pennsylvania Water Resources committee.

His resignation was made public in a letter to Gov. John S. Fine dated Jan. 8 in which he referred to the recent refusal of the Senate to confirm his appointment to a second term as head of the Forests and Waters department.

Fine, in a letter to Draemel, said he accepted the resignation "very reluctantly."

"You have made a notable and worthy contribution to the Department of Forests and Water which is worthy of emulation by those who will follow you. The Commonwealth loses a distinguished public servant, and this administration, a strong, able Cabinet officer who was motivated 'only by right.'"

Draemel also resigned as chairman of the Governor's Disaster committee and as a member of the Pennsylvania Water Resources committee.

The disaster group is responsible for issuing flood warning throughout the State. The Water Resources committee has been doing research work on use of the Delaware river as a water supply for municipalities in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware.

Empty Lifeboats Found At Sea

Seattle (AP) — Two lifeboats, overturned and tossing on the stormy North Pacific, told yesterday of the undoubted fate of the crew of the lost Japan-bound freighter Pennsylvania.

The lifeboats, with no signs of survivors, were sighted from the air by two Coast Guard planes in the early afternoon. Lt. Cmdr. Gordon H. MacLane, pilot of one of the planes, and Lt. Cmdr. Keith Low, pilot of the other, radioed that the two boats were about 16 miles apart.

The boats were about 125 miles south by southeast of the position last reported by the crippled freighter last Wednesday.

Plans Call For Widening Foxtown Hill

Survey work for another highway lane on the Foxtown Hill section of Route 611 and for reconstruction of Broad St., including a new bridge at Fifth St., is scheduled to be rushed to completion so plans and specification can be ready for bidding on both projects around June 1, it was learned yesterday.

Officials in charge of a survey corps assigned to the two projects said the June 1 deadline had been established when they were given assignments for the two projects.

In the past few days the crew has been concentrating on Broad St., which has already undergone preliminary surveys.

Trend of the surveys highlights two important developments. They are:

The State Highway department plans to bring the four-lane highway connection with approaches to the new Delaware River bridge now being constructed at Delaware Water into Stroudsburg via the Foxtown Hill road.

Surveys with the June 1 bidding deadline for Broad St. indicates the iron bridge now used by vehicular traffic from Broad St., to Main St. over McMichael's Creek must be rebuilt in conjunction with the new roadway.

Where the fourth-lane development over Foxtown Hill will go after it gets into South Stroudsburg is still a matter of speculation. The survey crew has confined its labors to date to a section ranging from around the Park Morningside Ave. curve in South Stroudsburg to the curve near the Delaware Water Gap cemetery.

It is understood that efforts are being made to get a determination on just what the highway department will propose to do with the four-lane traffic route from South Stroudsburg through the borough.

The local survey work is under direction of J. E. Kirk, chief of survey, Allentown district, State Highway department.

John Herbert is chief of the party which includes Harold Quick, Richard Seidoff, Harold B. Kresge, Roland Price and W. Polshovich.

Air Base Opposed

Washington (AP) — A group of Lancaster county, Pa., farmers told Assistant Secretary of the Air Force E. V. Huggins yesterday they don't want their rich farmland turned into an air base.

The group, representing farmers in the area of Donegal, Pa., assured Huggins and Brig. Gen. Harold R. Maddux, chief of the Air Force's air base division, that they were as patriotic as any citizens in the nation. But, they insisted, they can see no reason for using valuable farmland for an air base unless no other site is available.

Huggins, who conferred with the delegation in the Pentagon, said the Donegal area met Air Force requirements for the base, but that no decision had been reached and that the farmers' views will be given serious consideration.

The Air Force has proposed building a 62 million dollar aircraft maintenance depot, occupying 3,500 acres, in Lancaster county, which would augment the Olmsted Air Force base at nearby Middletown, Pa. The Middletown base, in Dauphin county, cannot be expanded, the Air Force has said.

House Votes 10 Per Cent Cost Of Living Increase In Pay For Armed Forces

Washington, (AP)—The House approved a 10 per cent cost-of-living raise for the armed forces yesterday, voting to boost military payroll's about $32 million dollars a year.

Debate on the measure was limited to 40 minutes, and when the roll was called the vote for passage was 269 to 89. (Those voting for the bill included Congressmen Walter and Carrigg, both of Pennsylvania).

The bill now goes to the Senate where Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Armed Services committee said his committee would take early action.

As passed by the House, pay raises for privates right up to generals would go into effect on the first day of the month following the signing of the bill by President Truman.

Mr. Truman favors the measure, which would raise the pay, quarters and subsistence allowances of all service personnel, active and retired, in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Public Health service and the Coast and Geodetic survey.

Privates would get about $7.50 a month extra. Senior generals and admirals would benefit by more than $100 a month.

Administration leaders pushed the bill through the House under procedure banning amendments, limiting debate and requiring a two-thirds vote for passage.

The opposition was led by Rep. Taber (R-NY) and was based mainly on the method of consideration.

Kefauver Talks With Truman But Refuses To Reveal Any Political Decisions Reached

Washington, (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), who is on the verge of running for the Democratic presidential nomination, talked with President Truman for 30 minutes yesterday, but kept a tight lid on any political decisions they may have discussed.

The tall, soft-spoken Tennessee declined to say whether he believes Mr. Truman will seek re-election. As for himself, Kefauver told newsmen:

"I will give a definite statement of my intentions about Feb. 1."

In other political developments: One—Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) was formally entered in the Illinois primary scheduled for April 8. Supporters said they plan to run a complete slate of delegates pledged to the Ohio senator.

Backers of Harold E. Stassen, another GOP candidate, said they also plan to enter a slate of delegate candidates on Stassen's behalf.

Two—In Concord, N. H., Arthur S. Nell, a local Republican leader, said he had decided against entering the name of Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the New Hampshire primary election on March 11.

Snell said he had planned to offer MacArthur's name, but had received word from MacArthur—former president headquarters in Ashland, Wis., that the general has "ruled himself out."

Three—A group of southern Democratic senators, whose decisions may yield powerful influence over the presidential election, held a closed-door "strategy meeting," but kept silent on the outcome.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.) said at least 14 senators from nine southern states attended. He said the group was unanimous in opposing any change in Senate rules which might hamper southern opposition to President Truman's civil rights proposals.

Four—In Louisiana, voters went to the polls to choose among nine Democratic candidates for governor.

The field included the first Negro to seek the governorship since post-Civil War reconstruction days, and the first woman ever to run for governor of Louisiana.

British Favor Full Study Of Russian Plan

Paris, (AP) — Britain's Selwyn Lloyd yesterday welcomed the revised Soviet atomic control plan as worthy of full study. He denied a charge by the Soviet bloc that the West plans to bury the plan in the United Nations' new Disarmament commission.

The British minister of State was one of many speakers who discussed Moscow's peace proposals in the U. N. Political committee.

The Russians, except for members of their own small bloc, gained no support for their proposals. The West picked up further backing for its plan to kill every section of the Moscow resolution before the committee except the sections on atomic energy, which would be sent to the Disarmament commission.

60 Passengers Overcome By Gas Fumes

Colfax, Calif. (AP) — An Army rescue team pushed slowly toward the snow-buried luxury streamliner City of San Francisco in 7,000-foot high Donner pass last night and — at last reports — was a tough six miles away.

But even after the Army's three weasel snow tractors reach the stalled Southern Pacific train, the 192 passengers still aboard and 30 crew members face their third snowbound night—their second night without heat. A new blizzard, with gusts up to 40 miles an hour, was whipping the pass in the Sierra Nevada.

Sixty of the passengers were described by four who left the train as sickened by gas fumes, with 27 of them regarded as litter patients. Later, however, only a few passengers were reported still sick. The passengers huddled in blankets to keep warm.

One of the passengers, a Cincinnati physician identified only as Dr. Roehl, treated the sixty passengers with the help of five military nurses and several servicemen aboard the 15-car train. The passengers were overcome by fumes Monday night. A gasoline-powered emergency lighting plant was blamed.

Another physician, Dr. Lawrence Nelson of Truckee, reached the train with medical supplies after being taken to Nyack lodge on a dog sled from Norden — on the east side of the pass—and thence from the lodge 5 1/2 miles to the train by a snow tractor.

A Southern Pacific spokesman in San Francisco said there "is little likelihood of any attempt to take off the passengers tonight because of night hazards and the storm."

The blizzards, which already have piled 25-foot drifts in the area, last night blasted powdery snow over the tops of the streamlined cars. The snow level inched up beyond the windows Monday night.

The Army's snow rescue vehicle — the weasel — is a unique mechanical creature. Roughly boxshaped, it is able to crunch over soft snow with its full caterpillar treads. But it can carry only four passengers or two litter patients.

To help the three weasels already near the scene, the Army and private owners of weasels were sending 10 more toward the pass from Colfax last night. But even with all the weasels on hand, it meant a number of shuttle trips to bring out the stranded passengers.

Among those believed aboard was Republican National Committeeman J. Russell Sprague, en route from New York to San Francisco for Thursday's opening of the GOP National committee conference. Some other delegates to the conference also were aboard.

The stalled train is about 150 air miles northeast of San Francisco and about 35 miles northeast of Colfax. It was described as stalled somewhat beneath a rocky ledge, and apparently safe from any avalanche.

Four servicemen who got off the train and reached Nyack lodge aboard a utilities company weasel described how they had helped the passenger-physician revive those overcome by fumes Monday night. They said they worked without sleep for nearly 20 hours to help remove passengers from closed compartments.

Air Force Pfc. Howard Jones of Stuart, Ia., said he and other volunteers also suffered effects of the gas fumes but that "when one of us would kneel over, another would drag us out and we'd come to. Then we'd go back in and get some more passengers out."

So intense was the blizzard last night that a Coast Guard helicopter, sent to take part in the rescue work, was able to get only as far as Colfax. The pilot, Lt. T. J. Hynes of Parkersburg, W. Va., was instructed to return to Sacramento and pick up a physician and 700 pounds of medical supplies—but a snow squall grounded him at Colfax. He had set the 'copter down directly across from the Southern Pacific railroad station here.

Railroad officials here were making up a special relief train to which the passengers will be brought. It was scheduled to begin moving up the grade from Colfax sometime last night behind a snowplow. Officials estimated it could reach within 10 miles of the City of San Francisco.

Pennsylvanians On Snowbound Train

Philadelphia (AP) — Officials of the Brown Instrument Co. here said last night that the firm's president H. F. Dever, and 10 others are on the snowbound City of San Francisco, bogged down by deep drifts in the California Sierras.

At the same time it was disclosed that a group of Pennsylvania Republican leaders, including National GOP Committeeman G. Mason Owlet, are on a second train—also named the City of San Francisco—en route safely around the worst of the snowstorm area.

The Republican group, bound for the GOP National committee meeting in San Francisco starting on Thursday, is expected to reach the West coast this morning by way of Las Vegas.

Los Angeles, (AP) — A 17-year-old girl and her boy friend, both unidentified, have established what is believed to be a new world endurance record for a romantic telephone conversation.

The pert blonde, who refused to give reporters her name, entered a telephone booth at 8 a. m. Monday. She talked with her boy friend until 3:30 p. m. — seven hours and 30 minutes.

The cost? One nickel. Ed Nixon, who operates a key shop, said the girl came to his shop shortly before 8 and asked for change for a dime.

He saw her enter the phone booth outside his shop, deposit a nickel, dial and start talking. "She talked all morning standing up," said Nixon.

"About noon she unwrapped her lunch and ate it, still talking. I gave her a stool to sit on. She was very grateful."

Radio Fire Fills Room With Smoke

Strodsburg firemen were called to 1002 Main St. shortly after 2:30 p. m. yesterday.

Mrs. Franklin Drake, who lives in an apartment at that address, had gone upstairs to visit Mrs. Paul Warnick Mrs. Drake left her radio on.

"About 2:30" Mrs. Warnick turned to Mrs. Drake and said: "I smell smoke. It smells like burned wood."

The two women raced downstairs to the Drake apartment, found the room filled with a heavy, acrid smoke pouring from the console radio.

Mrs. Drake called two men from the Tucker garage, Bob Smith and Elmer Rinehart. The two men crossed the street, entered the apartment and removed the radio.

When five trucks and firemen from the Strodsburg fire company arrived they found the radio sitting on the front porch. No fire.

Waring Workshop Attracts Over 150 Church Musicians

More than 150 church choral directors and church representatives attended Monroe county's first Waring Workshop at Strodsburg Presbyterian church last night.

Rev. Ernest Campbell, pastor of the host church, welcomed the representatives and gave an invocation, then introduced Rev. Claud Heilenman, president of the Monroe County Ministerium who described the events leading up to the workshop.

Prior to the opening of the workshop, Ennis Davis, who serves as director during the ten-week series, described the policies governing the program as "based upon simplicity." Davis, along with other officials of the Waring group, hopes that small church choirs will be able to put into practice at least a few of the suggestions given them during the first meeting.

The current effort, Davis said, is designed to pass along to churches and local choral groups exactly the same sort of study which Waring teachers have been giving to colleges and universities at Shawnee during the Summer.

In 1951 the Shawnee courses were taken "on the road" to five universities throughout America when facilities at Shawnee proved inadequate to handle the tremendous enrollment. This year the Waring instructors will visit a total of six colleges.

The attempt to carry a typical national choral course over into the purely local level will, Davis feels, result in a possible county-wide network of religious choral groups.

"More people participate in music in churches," Davis said, "than any other place. We tend to forget that now and then. But it's true."

The Monroe county workshop is the first of its kind in this country, Davis said.

Grace Church Elects Four Vestrymen

The annual congregational meeting of Grace Evangelical Lutheran church, East Stroudsburg, was held on Monday night in the parish house chapel with one of the largest representations of the congregation ever to attend an annual meeting. The session was presided over by James P. Sheeley, lay-president of the vestry.

Four vestrymen were elected for three year terms: Henry Peters Sr., William Lee Sr., and Hanford L. Cleveland as deacons; and William P. Miller to succeed himself in office as trustee.

Deacons whose terms expired were Corey J. Bush, Charles Patterson Sr. and Clarence Hill. The nominating committee consisted of Frank B. Michaels, James P. Sheeley, Joseph T. Pierce, Charles Patterson Sr. and Mrs. George W. Brewer.

The various auxiliaries of the parish each reported a very favorable year. William V. Nixon, chairman of the stewardship drive, reported $1900 remaining to be paid out of a $6,300 deficit incurred for local renovations in past months. He expressed belief this amount would be totally liquidated within the next several months.

John A. Wagner, treasurer, reported more than $20,000 received for the church and church school in 1951 and including unapportioned benevolence received would considerably exceed that amount. Last year he said marked the best year in the church's history for the payment of apportioned benevolence amounting to more than $2,100. It was indicated that the total amounts apportioned would be met in future years. Mrs. Dorothy Kitzman, financial secretary, provided mimeographed reports of all financial accounts including the 1952 budget of $22,000 which was unanimously adopted by the congregation.

Rev. William F. Wunder gave a report of all parish activities which indicated a large measure of growth last year. He stated that 248 adult members had been received into membership during the past four years, 74 of whom were accessions last year, and 164 children and 13 adults were baptized in the last four years. Last year 53 children were received into the baptized membership of the church by the sacrament of Holy Baptism and two adults also received by Holy Baptism. Rev. Wunder further reported that he had officiated at 145 funerals in the last four years, 44 of which were last year. In his statistical report it was mentioned that 123 weddings were performed within the parish in the past four years, 27 of this total performed last year. The pastor further reported that 76 young people had received catechetical instruction since 1948, 15 being in last year's Confirmation class.

The Lutheran Youth have provided an honor roll for all men and women of the parish serving in the armed forces of our nation. Thirty-eight men and one woman and one Gold-star are inscribed upon by the honor roll which is placed in the main Sunday school corridor. Charles S. Getz, killed in Korea on June 19, 1951 is the Gold-star on Grace church's honor roll. Dr. Carolyn Toewe, serving in the U. S. Navy at Wichita, Kansas is the young lady among the 39 serving from Grace church. Raymond Mery, Ronald Wright and Roger Slutter joined the Marines and Navy during the past week.

Bond Burning Takes Place

Officials of the East Stroudsburg Methodist church and parsonage held a bond burning yesterday afternoon at the borough high school.

The burning was the final step in the disappearance of a $100,000 debt on which the congregation of the church had been paying since 1923. Most of the money had been raised through the White Gift service at Christmas and the Easter Rose Gift service.

Participating in yesterday's ceremonies in the furnace room of the East Stroudsburg High school were George Metzgar, trustee for bond holders; Howard S. Eckert, treasurer of the building fund and secretary of the board of trustees and Verner Reynolds, chairman of the finance committee.

Crash Occurs On Route 209

Minor damage was caused by the collision of a truck and car on Route 209 just west of the Stroudsburg borough limits at 3:10 p.m. yesterday.

Stroudsburg State police listed the truck driver as William B. Sparr, 29, Reading, and the car driver as Victor L. Holdorf, of Greenway Ave., Stroudsburg.

Police said the truck was passing a car as the Holdorf auto was pulling out of a service station. The two collided and the front bumper of the car was pulled off. There were no injuries.

3 Runaway Boys Returned

Three Plainfield, N. J., boys were back home last night after they were picked up by Brodheadville State police and held until the arrival of the father of one of the group in Stroudsburg.

The minors were picked up by State police at Sciota about 8:45 yesterday morning. They said they were "from Stroudsburg" and "were on their way to Wilkes-Barre to attend the Farm show," police said.

After talking with police, however, the boys admitted they had run away from home "because of low grades in school."

Brodheadville police then took the three youths to Stroudsburg and notified the parents in Plainfield. About noon yesterday Anthony Mastrogriepi came to Stroudsburg to pick up his son and the others and take them back home.

Ernest Transue To Speak On Radio 'Hams' At Second Session Of Defense School

The second session of the Monroe County Civil Defense school, scheduled for 8 tonight at East Stroudsburg High school, will feature a talk by Ernest Transue, chief engineer of WVPO, Stroudsburg, on the usefulness of radio "hams" in Civil Defense work.

Civil Defense officials urged all leaders of various zones and townships to be present tonight as important discussion will be held on procurement of Federal funds on a matching dollar-for-dollar basis to purchase local Civil Defense equipment.

Walter Stem, member of the faculty of East Stroudsburg High school, will continue his course on the atom bomb and how to survive its devastation, and the work of the warden service; also further discussion will be held on the Monroe County Civil Defense structure.

Courses will be given at the school on auxiliary police and medical and health problems in the remaining sessions, to be held (in addition to tonight's school) Monday and Wednesday, Jan. 21 and 23.

Conusion at Postoffice

Postal clerks in the Stroudsburgs, and the nation over, are getting a new kind of workout engendered by the latest legislative wonder thought up by Congress. It all started when the penny postcard doubled in price. Congress ruled that you could buy 49 cards for 98 cents, but if you wanted 50 cards it would cost you $1.10. If you bought 100 cards, the price was $2.20.

Large users of postcards have resorted to moving from window to window, buying 49 cards at each, and even to sending others in to make purchases for them. The cards come in packages of 50, adding to the confusion for clerks. The extra charge for 50 or more cards has just added to the burden of work, and seems unlikely to add to the postal revenue.

It is another case of the government working in reverse. Quantity buyers usually enjoy a discount. Not so with the government. The quantity buyers gets clipped. It's about par for the government's understanding of economy.

Murder on TV

At Los Angeles a 16-year-old baby sitter saw a murder by strangling on television, and then killed a sleeping six-year-old girl by an almost identical method. She murdered the child committed to her for safe-keeping.

It developed that the baby sitter was a problem child who had run away from home twice, but was now supposed to be doing all right.

The parents of the slain child were both working for our national security when the tragedy occurred. The father, a Navy petty officer, was on duty at the Los Alamitos Naval Air Station. The mother was working on a late shift at Douglas Aircraft. What bitter irony that their own home was invaded by an internal enemy, senseless crime, as horrible as the external enemy, Communism.

There are two lessons to be learned from this tragic incident:

1—Television should not picture the physical act of murder, especially murder in such forms as strangling, which appeals to twisted minds.

2—Parents should have thorough knowledge of the character and mentality of those they employ as baby sitters. What comes into their homes on the television screen has been of concern to parents even before this incident.

It is not a new problem; it is intensification of an old one. It came with radio, the movies and even the newspaper pictures and comic strips.

It is intensified by television because television is the most intimate of these media and the one in which parents have the greatest difficulty in choosing.

As a result of this incident, parents should be heard from. They should let television stations know that they do not want these graphic pictures of crime.

Even more effective is to let sponsors know. Express your appreciation for a program you consider wholesome as well as interesting; express your displeasure when a sponsor sends into your home that which you do not think good for children.

This won't hurt the television business. It will only mean that the script writers will have to work a little harder. It is easy to get an audience's attention with blood and violence; to get it by subtle dramatic effect requires more ingenuity.

True, some dramas require the portrayal of murder, but this can be done so that adults can know what happened without detailed pictures which are suggestions to warped minds to go and do likewise.

The Rights Of Teachers

Some time ago, I wrote an article about schools, teachers and such matters and received quite a large mail in response to it. Some parents and teachers agreed with me; most teachers and school administrators were very annoyed that one so ignorant as I, should presume to discuss education.

Probably their objection arises from the fact that I do not have a Ph.D. from Teachers College. However, as a father of three children, two of whom are still involved in the process of what is called education, I stand on my rights to discuss their intellectual and spiritual fate; and as one who is taxed in two places for schools to which he does not send his children, preferring to pay additionally for that commodity, I have some rights left, I hope.

Looking through the decisions of various courts on the rights of teachers, I came across the very interesting case of McDowell v. Board of Education of City of New York. In 1918, Mary S. McDowell, a Quaker and a Latin teacher, took the position:

"... She would not uphold the country in forcibly resisting invasion; she did not want to help the government of the United States in carrying on the present war; she would not urge her pupils to support the war, to perform Red Cross services or to buy thrift stamps..."

She was charged with conduct unbecoming a teacher and subsequently discharged from her position. She went to court. Justice Eugene A. Philbin in October, 1918, ruled:

"The petitioner was not dismissed because she is a Quaker. It has simply been proved that certain views and beliefs, which she declares are based upon her religion prevent her from properly discharging the duty she assumed. Where a person agrees with the State to perform a public duty, she will not be excused from performance according to law merely because her religion forbids her doing so. While the petitioner may be entitled to the greatest respect for her adherence to her faith, she cannot be permitted because of it to act in a manner inconsistent with the peace and safety of the State."

This decision is applicable to many cases which arise today involving the conflict between private conscience and public policy.

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Washington—By way of illustrating the State department security standards it should interest you to learn that its loyalty board does not consider it out of line for a high level department official to be living with a Chinese woman who is a paid agent of the Soviet government, while he has a wife and two children back home in the United States.

The Civil Service Loyalty Review board recently studied the record of this official after the State department loyalty board had given him a clean bill of health.

Evidence before the review board showed that the Chinese woman was in the pay of the Russian government and that the State department official loved the woman. In fact, the review board records show that the official, at one point in his globe trotting, returned to the United States for the purpose of divorcing his wife so he could marry the Communist agent.

State department loyalty board members had the record before them when they cleared the official of disloyalty charges. They knew the facts of the case for two years but took no action. This prompted one review board member to wonder if the State department might not at least have found the official "unsuitable" for federal employment, if not disloyal, since he represented this government in high level international negotiations on a number of occasions involving talks with the Russians. The Reds are not averse to blackmail and the official involved seemed particularly susceptible to it because of his love affair.

There was considerable pondering by review board members, however, about where love ends and loyalty begins. Several cases in which a wife was known to be a Communist, while there was no proof that the husband was, also disturbed the board's deliberations. One member stated:

"I cannot say that I think from a knowledge of human nature, that because we can not see that a man is loyal to his wife necessarily means that he is a Communist and disloyal to his country. He is not required to be in the sacrament of matrimony to promise he will support her in all of her political and economic views, and I cannot see that there would be the slightest difficulty to an individual faced with that. I think we should go slow to conclude that a marriage, or relationship of father and daughter, or there was one in the Commerce department..."

When the Soviet inspired Youth Congress convened in East Berlin, two delegates slipped through the barricade into the American sector. They inspected the shops bulging with food, new shoes, and gadgets with their eyes popping, then one delegate observed scornfully, "Obviously there's no government on this side!"

town in which he lived.

So he sold tickets at a dollar apiece for a raffle.

The prize was to be himself. He would work for whoever won him for a whole year.

A drug store owner won him and was going to put him to work as a soda jerk or something. But the young fellow who had pulled off the raffle offered the drug store man five hundred dollars in cash and bought himself off.

He had twenty-five hundred dollars left, for which he bought a farm, married the girl he loved, and they lived happily forever after, I presume.

You have to admit that any young fellow who can sell three thousand dollars worth of raffle tickets in a town of two thousand is a pretty good salesman.

But that is only a detail. The story was good, and I was sort of envying those fiction writers.

He removed himself from the race because his brother was also a contender and the General refused to compete with him.

Harding was not eager to run for President. His name was scarcely mentioned in that respect before the 1920 convention. He entered the Ohio presidential primary solely for the purpose of gaining prestige in his campaign for re-election to the Senate.

A deadlocked convention made Harding the dark horse candidate. The political bosses chose him as their standard-bearer for this incredible reason: They believed he LOOKED like a President.

Among marathon-runners in presidential races was William Jennings Bryan. He was a three-time loser. So was Henry Clay, who coined the classic: "I'd rather be right than President." That statement was not inspired by any lofty concepts. It was pure sour grapes. A newspaperman once informed Bryan he was appalled by the many politicians gripped by Presidential fever. "It's a political sickness," he groaned.

Bryan cracked: "And what a flattering disease!"

Hollywood—Just a glamor doll in rags—that's Jean Peters.

"It started with 'Captain From Castile', the beautiful brunette waited the other day, 'when I wore rags. In 'Deep Waters' I was a social worker in tweeds and cotton stockings."

"In 'Love That Brute' I wore 1920-period costumes, the most gosh-awful things ever made. In 'It Happens Every Spring' I had on loafers and hobby socks."

"In 'Take Care of My Little Girl' I got dressed up—I think they decided I enjoyed myself too much. So in 'Anne of the Indies' I went back to burlesque and men's pants. In 'Viva Zapata' my 40-year-old cotton dress and blouse actually fell apart. Look at me now."

It was a pleasure, even if Miss Peters was deglamorized — in buckskin blouse and pants — for "Cry of the Swamp." Cried Jean, "who'd like to get dressed up again, for the cameras?" "What did I ever do to deserve this?"

Juniors Of ESHS Present Class Play Thursday Night

Pandemonium will rule at East Stroudsburg Junior High school auditorium tomorrow night when the east borough high school's junior class presents its version of the James Heath play "One Mad Night."

Billed in advance as an exercise in lunacy the class production seems destined to outdo its publicity. "No trespassing" signs and posters throughout East Stroudsburg have given residents due warning of the proceedings during the past seven days.

Stage and properties for the class play were handled by Co-chairmen John Smeltz and Carl Smith; publicity by John McGarry, Charles Gross, Lawrence Miller and Beverly Long; tickets and programs by Harry Caulfield. Grade school children in the east borough have sold tickets for the affair during the past two weeks.

Tickets are also on sale at the Grand theater and will be available at the door tomorrow night.

Cast members are David Powell, Nancy Walters, Mary Sue Harvey, Lawrence Miller, John Kolcun,

Lung Cancer Survey Begins Among Male Smokers From 50 To 70 In Monroe County

A survey to determine whether smoking has anything to do with lung cancer began in Monroe county yesterday.

The survey method and purpose was described by Mrs. J. Stewart Williams, Kingston, area representative of the American Cancer society, which is conducting the survey on a national scale.

At the meeting at the Stroudsburg YMCA, conducted by Mrs. Robert Miller, Stroudsburg, county captain of the research project, Mrs. Williams told some 25 listeners that Monroe county bore the "Number 1" designation. This county was first to enlist in aiding the research project in Pennsylvania.

Four Youths Enlist In Navy Service

The recent enlistment of four young men from Monroe county was announced yesterday by Chief Lyman N. Price of the local Navy Recruiting station.

The new recruits are Ronald J. Wright, 18, of Stroudsburg RD 1; Roger H. Slutter, 18, of 90 Lakawanna Ave., East Stroudsburg; John Edgar Wiggins, 18, of 143 Centre St., East Stroudsburg, and Robert E. Smith, 17, of Scotrun.

All of the men enlisted this month are being transferred to the Naval Training center, Bainbridge, Md. for recruit training. After eleven weeks of Navy life they will return home for 14 days leave.

Proposed deadline for completion of the questioning is March 15. Mrs. Miller will send all the completed forms to the Harrisburg offices of the Cancer society at that time.

The forms will be filed and held there for a three-year period.

In 1955 the society will send all the forms back to Monroe county for the second half of the research. Questions then will determine how many deaths have occurred among those who filled out forms, and the cause of death.

The results will be collated by the society and an analysis made. The first forms were filled in yesterday by a number of the volunteers.

Reason the survey is only being held among men is that women are rarely victims of lung cancer, Mrs. Williams said.

Both smokers and non-smokers will be included in the study, she added.

Only male at the meeting yesterday was Attorney Detlef A. Hansen, chairman of this year's county cancer fund drive.

Some representatives of civic groups and clubs included among the listeners were Mrs. LeRoy Koehler, Stroudsburg Women's club; Mrs. James Cummings, Stroudsburg Junior Women's club; Mrs. Elsie Stanford of the Anna Logan Hospital society; Mrs. David Katz, Temple Israel Sisterhood; and Mrs. Clark, a nurse visiting from the Pike county cancer society unit.

About half the meat eaten by members of the U. S. Armed Services is beef. Most of the other half is pork.

The National Geographic Society estimates that more than 230,000,000 persons see movies in the world each week.

More 'Hot Sweaters' Reported To Police; One Burns In 30 Seconds, Another In 60

There was a hot time in the old county yesterday as more "exploding sweaters" were reported to ashes by their peeved owners.

Stroudsburg State police had another six or eight calls from persons who thought their new sweaters might be of the dangerously inflammable type which mysterious canvassers have sold in a number of states in recent months.

Most of the sweaters questioned or lighted were the "hot" variety, all right.

Mrs. Harry Premus, Stroudsburg, took both of her handsome sweaters to the State police barracks. One was tan, the other royal blue. Pfc. Alex G. Kern took a look, sniffed and felt the fabric, then advised Mrs. Premus to burn both.

She did. The tan sweater went up in 30 seconds, the blue one in about 60. Mr. Premus bought the pair in New York City some three months ago from a street vendor, paid $5 each.

The "hot sweaters" bear a variety of labels and come in many colors. In Monroe county only two styles have been noted: the coat-type, with four buttons down the front, and the vest-type.

The sweaters also have certain peculiarities which make identification easier. One is a distinctive odor of freshly-saved wood. The other is the vaguely gritty or crunchy feel when the fabric is wadded and crushed in the hands.

Pfc. Kern suggested that persons having sweaters they may think are the "hot" type should turn them over to local police or else burn them up.

Truck Rams Station Wagon

A telephone pole was snapped off and a parked station wagon damaged by a truck on Route 611 a mile north of Stroudsburg at 1:20 p. m. yesterday.

The heavy tractor-trailer was reportedly forced off the highway by an oncoming car. The driver, Henry J. Meyers, 26, Paramus, N. J., was uninjured.

He told Stroudsburg State police he was driving south when the other car approached. To avoid hitting it, he said, he drove off the right side of the road.

The truck snapped off the pole, then hit the parked station wagon on the premises of Michael's garage and knocked down a neon sign, police said.

Police described total damages as "extensive" but said the estimate had not yet been set. Telephone service to a number of subscribers was out for a short period.

'View' Rooms When Planning To Decorate

So you're planning to decorate! If that's decided, you've likely inspected your rugs, draperies and furniture for their part in your plans. You have a general idea of a final arrangement. And now you've come to the walls, the important background of your entire decorative scheme.

What patterns, what colors will be best for the walls? Here's one way to decide that problem. As professionals say, you can "view" your rooms. This merely means to consider adjoining rooms as an ensemble. Should they be tied together with harmonizing wallpaper, or would a contrasting effect be better?

May Reveal Answer

"Viewing" may reveal the answer. Stand in your entrance hall and look at all the walls that you can see from that point. Do open doors and archways permit you to see the living room walls, and beyond, to the walls of the dining room and possibly the sun room? What you can see constitutes your first room-view.

Does this first view suggest harmony, or contrast? If you favor harmony, you'll find that the new ensemble wallpapers are pleasing. By colors, or pattern, or both, these new ensemble wallpapers are styled by the manufacturers, to be used together.

But perhaps you prefer contrast. If you do, then choose papers with contrasting patterns and colors. For example: you can use one of the modern striped patterns in the living room and a contrasting flowered pattern in the dining room. Or, a formal all-over pattern in one room and a smart diagonal pattern in the room next to it.

New Wallpapers Varied

The new wallpapers provide an almost unlimited number of new patterns and colors that can be adapted to your decorating plan. But first, it's wise to "view" your rooms as suggested. This fixes a clear picture of the rooms in your mind. Then, when the sample books are before you, you'll find it easier to choose suitable patterns and colors to carry out the decorating plan most appropriate to your home.

Ph. Pcc. Lk. 11-R-12

The congregation of the Evangelical Salem and Reformed church had for the second time the supply minister, James Rubright, of Pottsville, Pa., Sunday morning. Frederick Harold Jr. sang the anthem, "Guidens." The rest of the choir, Mrs. John Werkheiser, Jimmie Judge, and Miss Jeanette Schoonover joining in with the chorus. Mrs. Fred Harold Jr. is the organist.

Last week the auditing committee, Mrs. Harley Henning, John Werkheiser and Herbert Altemose met with the secretary, Mrs. John Werkheiser, at the home of the treasurer, Mrs. Otto Fischer to audit the Evangelical Salem and Reformed church books for the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Fischer and family had the pleasure of Mark Rutledge and five friends of Fort Monmouth, New Jersey, to call on them Sunday afternoon.

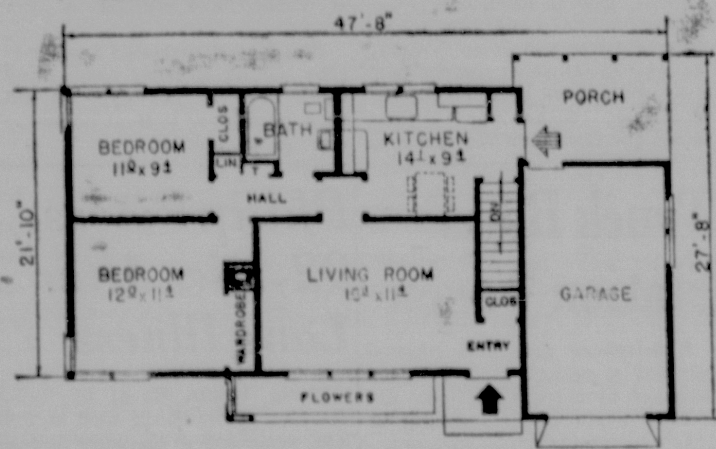

Lester Heddon, from Easton, acted as host, at a dinner party which was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Harold Jr., recently to the following invited friends: Mrs. Charles Kinsley, Mrs. Waldo Dyson, Mrs. Raymond Fischer, Miss Jeanette Schoonover, Mrs. Fred Harold Jr. and daughter Mary. Vita Craft Aluminum was used in preparing this dinner.

Mrs. Herbert Altemose was hostess to a Stanley brush party held at her home on Saturday evening. Members of the Pocono Lake Methodist Church Aid had a two day quilting last week at the home of Mrs. John Keiper, with the following attending: Mrs. Harry Bonser, Mrs. Frans Ter-Mullen, Mrs. Helen Smith, Mrs. Arthur Dunlap, Mrs. William McGore, Mrs. Harvey Keiper, Mrs. Albert Malachowski, Mrs. John Keiper and Mrs. Keiper's aunt, Mrs. Cleveland Keenhold, dropped in for a day of quilting.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Altemose and family spent the weekend with Mrs. Altemose's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Knight, of Wilkes-Barre.

Mr. and Mrs. Ignatius Lukoski and family spent the weekend in New Jersey visiting relatives.

Russell Durland and his sister, Eleanor, visited their mother, Mrs. Carrie Durland, who has been a patient at the General hospital, East Stroudsburg, for the past week, on Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Berger called on

The Bristol is suitable for a narrow city lot. It has a plan which calls for only a 24 foot width. Rooms in The Bristol are two bedrooms, a living room, a kitchen and a small dining room.

The Bristol's front entrance has a covered stoop. It enters the living room through a vestibule equipped with a handy coat closet. The Bristol's side entry leads directly to the basement. It also has a convenient coat closet. Other closets in The Bristol include a closet in every bedroom, a broom closet in the kitchen and a linen closet in the bedroom hall.

The modern kitchen has cabinets and equipment arranged on two of its walls. This leaves a wall for a breakfast set.

Plans of The Bristol call for frame construction with siding. However, concrete or cinder blocks can easily be substituted for the frame. The roof is covered with asphalt shingles.

Overall dimensions of The Bristol are 24 feet by 38 feet. There is a floor area of 912 square feet and a volume of 17,328 cubic feet, including a full basement.

For further information about The Bristol, write The Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Inspect Lot Before Buying

A vacant plot is not always a bargain, particularly if located in an area that is fairly well built up. In such cases there is usually a reason, it is vacant. The prospective buyer should examine the land closely because a high growth of weeds may hide a lot of faults.

It is wise to walk across the lot in several directions and note whether it will need an undue amount of filling. Residents of the neighborhood should be queried as to whether water stands on the plot and whether they had excavation difficulties. Solid rock often underlies an area and makes excavation extremely costly.

A few holes made with a post hole digger, at various points in the plot will reveal whether it has been filled with garbage or rubbish.

Mrs. Durland on Sunday. Mrs. Durland is expected home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Dunlap and Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Dyson and son called on Mr. and Mrs. Willis Dunlap on Sunday evening. Mrs. Willis Dunlap has been on the sick list since last Wednesday.

Mrs. Lloyd Miller and her mother, Mrs. Alice Hay, of Pocono Summit, called on the Phillip Dunlap and Waldo Dyson families Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bonser called on Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Keenhold last Wednesday evening and watched television.

Mrs. Clyde Miller spent Sunday evening with her father, Frank Fischer, sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Werkheiser.

Mrs. Amanda Sansenbach, mother of Mrs. Otto Fischer, is on the sick list.

Mrs. Frank Smith who has been confined to her room for the past month, was able to come downstairs and help to enjoy the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith, which was celebrated last Tuesday, and who are taking care of Mrs. Frank Smith.

Remodeling Sun Porch Suggested

The usefulness of the glassed-in porch which made its appearance early in the 1920's, has been seriously questioned. Too cool for comfort in the winter and often used only a few months during the summer, it served usually to shorten and darken the living room. This problem is solvable by removing the wall between the living room and the sun porch, making one large, sunny room. Not only does it permit more space, but it brings the room into the light and provides reading corners that all the family may enjoy.

Drip-Proof Faucet

A drip-proof faucet, the washer of which can be changed without turning off the water has been developed in England. When changing the washer, a special plug replaces the faucet nozzle; then the top of the faucet can be removed without leakage. Double washers in the faucet prevent dripping.

Walls And Reflection

White walls have an 85 per cent reflective efficiency, light cream, gray or yellow have 75 per cent, buff 70 per cent, light green 65 per cent and light blue 55 per cent, with medium and darker wall colors varying down to 8 per cent for dark blue and 7 per cent for dark green.

Check Roof's Needs, Avert Costly Repair

How long has it been since the roof over your head was checked? Will the roof continue to ward off the elements for another year, or has the weather beaten the "life" out of it?

Roofs too often are taken for granted. Simply because a roof has given good service for many years, home owners forget that it is the most exposed part of a house, subject to unremitting attack. Hot Summer suns bake the roof, and rains cool it. Winter's snows and ice freeze it, and winds blowing from every direction seek to rip and tear it.

Most parts of a house "scream" for attention before it is too late. Paint flakes and chips. The furnace "acts up." The refrigerator goes noisy. But a roof silently does its job until weather finally takes its toll. Then water seeps in.

If ignored, roofers warn, moisture may rot the roof deck, or the wood in the deck may swell and buckle and tear the roof covering. Often, water may make its way inside the walls and emerge far from the source of the leak, cracking the plaster and staining the wallpaper.

Unless a roof is replaced before it ends its useful life, the interior of the house may require repairs. And the cost is likely to exceed the price of a new roof.

Patching an old roof seldom pays. H. R. Snook of the U. S. Bureau of Standards states that "a single apparent leak in a badly weathered roof is usually the forerunner of other larger leaks that will appear in a relatively short time."

There comes a time in the life of a roof on every permanent structure when it is no longer practicable or economical to effect repairs. When that time comes, re-roofing is the only solution.

There is more to consider in selecting a roof than just its initial cost. A roof not only should provide trouble-free service for many years, but also it should beautify the home by its rich texture and blended colors, and protect the home from the danger of sparks or flying embers.

Hardwood Best For Most Floors

Most home building experts recommend hardwood floors, usually oak, for all rooms in a house except possibly the bathroom and the kitchen. Tile is considered ideal for the former, since it is waterproof and easily cleaned with soap and water. Because a kitchen floor ordinarily is covered with linoleum, any species of flooring wood that is sufficiently strong and durable is generally deemed adequate. Oak is preferred for the other rooms because it combines unmatched beauty with the other essentials of good flooring.

Plaster Sizing

Application of a coat of sizing on a plastered wall surface before painting is a wise procedure. A good preparation for sizing may be purchased from any paint dealer or may be made up of varnish thinned with turpentine and colored with a little of the wall paint.

Some Methods Of Protecting Basements From Flooding Noted By Plumbing Bureau

Prospective home builders should obtain the advice of an experienced plumbing contractor on the advantages of available devices that protect basements against flooding, advises the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

One of these is the sump pump which operates automatically to remove water that may seep into the basement. The other is an automatic back-water valve which prevents the sewer from backing up through the floor drain or through plumbing fixtures in the basement.

Bathroom Decoration Plan Given

One decorative scheme for bathrooms involves the use of black, white and silver with dove gray—in judiciously proportioned combinations.

A black bathroom floor contrasts sharply with chromium and white bathroom fittings, and with gray and silver walls, with an accent of cerise in the accessories.

Another suggested combination for a bathroom is a black floor, neutral gray walls, with lemon yellow ceiling and trim, with the lemon again used in window and shower curtains.

A third suggested combination is duobonnet and chalk white, with turquoise.

However, before any painting is done, each bathroom should be studied carefully to determine the color scheme which will be permanently satisfactory.

Insulate Doors To Retain Heat

When homes are hard to keep warm, it may be because too much heat is being lost through attic, basement and vestibule doors. Frequently, an improvement can be made by applying a backing of insulating board to the doors. The rigid insulating material keeps in heat and protects against wind infiltration.

Faucet Device Heats Water

A new type of electric water heater is expected to be ready for the market soon. It slips over the faucet and the cord is plugged into an electrical outlet. A mere turn of the faucet handle sets temperature adjustment, a quarter-on for boiling water half-on for hot water and full-on for warm water.

Womans Club Inaugurated Many Projects

The members of the Junior Woman's club last night heard highlights from the history of the Stroudsburg Woman's club from the lips of the women who had made that history. Mrs. Eugene Martin, as moderator, introduced the speakers.

Mrs. W. Dolby Palmer, organizing president, told of its first meeting when 21 answered an advertisement in the local paper and even at their first meeting dedicated themselves to community welfare. She told of the meetings in private homes and lodge halls and churches and the projects launched during that first year.

Mrs. J. C. LeBar, chairman of the Mansion House committee since 1919, told of the drive to purchase the present Stroud Community House, and of putting it on a sound financial basis so that it has always paid its own way. She told of the early tenants and remodeling, and of some of the treasures of the house.

Mrs. T. Floyd Rhodes described some of the early welfare work of the organization from which many of the modern welfare agencies have developed. The first Red Cross nurse in 1917 had her headquarters at the Community House; in 1931, with Barrett and the East Stroudsburg Civic club, the Stroudsburg club organized the Children's Aid society; they administered the first Mother's Pension plan in the county; sponsored Planned Parenthood; and made youth conservation survey which pointed up the need of a family welfare service, a need still to be met.

Mrs. William Webb took up the welfare story, and told of the precursor of the Well-Baby clinic, of the emergency child health committee; the furnishing of the domestic science room at the local high school, and the fight to save the shade trees of the town.

Mrs. Elizabeth Kane traced the history of the Monroe county library, also sponsored by the Woman's club, beginning in 1915 with 29,000. She paid tribute to Mrs. C. C. Scholla who has headed the library committee since 1936.

Mrs. A. Greenwald Gearhart described the establishment of the Junior Woman's club in 1921 and told of its early history while she was its advisor.

Mrs. Richard Fredenburg was program chairman, and the music featured Miss Lois Knipe in three solos with Mrs. Anne Putnam as her accompanist.

Mrs. Arthur O'Neill and Mrs. Phyllis Ellis were welcomed as new members.

Mrs. James Cummings, president, presided at the business meeting when it was reported that $111 was realized from the Christmas dance, and $60 from the Christmas trays. Miss Ardeth Groner, Mrs. Claude Heller and Mrs. Annette Kelecheva were named to the nominating committee.

Refreshments closed the meeting.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

I wonder if Dr. Mary Erdman, in that long ago day when she inserted an ad in the local paper for women interested in forming a civic club for Stroudsburg, had a pricking in her thumbs about what the results might be. Wonder how she feels about her brain child now?

From that nucleus of competent women has come practically all of our present day welfare agencies: Red Cross, Children's Aid, Emergency Child Health, Well-Baby Clinic, Mothers Pension, county library, Community House, Planned Parenthood, home economics, Girl Scouts, Brownies—and so on.

Oh, they might have evolved anyway, but the impetus given them by organized women brought them faster and more efficiently. Even where they failed—as in the fight to preserve the shade trees—the men might better have listened.

Maybe we should attribute all this to the power of advertising as exemplified by that one small ad, but I rather think the credit should go to the power of women. They've come a long, long way since they used to have to move the spittoons out of the men's third floor lodge room where they met—and they've brought the community right along with them.

It's good for the Junior Woman's club to know the mantle they're inheriting—but they've got their battle scars too. Just ask any junior about those Christmas trays.

Sgt. Boyer Knecht, Veteran Of Korea Is Married Here

Tobyhanna—Beatrice Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hamby of Lenoir, N. C., and Sgt. Boyer R. Knecht, son of Mrs. Catherine Knecht and the late Rufus S. Knecht, of Tobyhanna, were married on Saturday, January 12 at 2 o'clock at the home of the bridegroom's mother, in Tobyhanna.

Rev. Warren F. Nonemaker performed the ceremony in the presence of friends and relatives. The bride wore a skipper blue suit with navy blue accessories and carried a prayer book with an orchid and streamers of carnations. She was attended by Miss Carolyn Knecht, sister of the bridegroom, who wore a navy blue suit with navy accessories and carried a corsage of red roses.

William Knecht served as best man for his brother. After their wedding trip, they will make their home at Tobyhanna. The bride is a graduate of Gamewell School, Lenoir, N. C.

Sgt. Knecht was graduated from Coolbaugh High school, Tobyhanna, and prior to his enlistment in August 1949 was employed at Art Metal. He was inducted at Camp Kilmer, N. J., and took his basic training at Fort Benning, Ga.

Sgt. Knecht spent the last two years in Okinawa and Korea, and at the expiration of his leave will report to Indiantown Gap for further assignment.

Installation At Meeting Of Garden Club

Installation of new officers will mark the meeting of the Monroe County Garden club to be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at the YMCA.

Mrs. Edward C. Knobb will speak on "Our Beautiful Birds," and Mrs. Elwood Grant, exhibit chairman, has asked members to bring in arrangements of dried twigs and grasses.

Mrs. Gilbert Barthold and Mrs. John Fisher are co-chairmen of the hostess committee.

Rosary Society At Tannersville

Tannersville—At the meeting of the Altar and Rosary society of Our Lady of Victory Catholic church at Tannersville, reports were given on the Christmas party held for the children of the parish and their friends.

The organization plans to supply altar linens for the church and announce a bake sale in February. They contributed toward the church's assessment for the windows of the new Lady of Fatima Catholic church at Promised Land.

Mrs. Robert Stadden, Mrs. A. Hildt and Mrs. Whalen will be in charge of altar care until the next meeting to be held February 14. Mrs. Edward Kabalac, Mrs. Louis Martinelli, and Mrs. Francis Mooney will be hostesses at this meeting.

Mrs. Mooney, president, presided at the meeting and refreshments were served by Mesdames Broderick and Kennedy.

Ever-Welcome Meeting

The Ever Welcome class will meet Thursday night at 7:30 at the Stroudsburg Methodist church. Mrs. Sarah Wilson and Mrs. Edith Everett will be hostesses.

Leaving For South

Mrs. Myrtle Bentzon, of 608 Monroe St., Stroudsburg, will leave today for Lake Wales, Fla., to spend the rest of the winter with her sister, Mrs. H. J. Hallett.

State Historian To Speak At Historical Society's Dinner; Gifts Acknowledged

Dr. Sylvester K. Stevens, of State College, president of the Pennsylvania Historical commission, will be the guest speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the Monroe County Historical society at the Penn-Stroud hotel on Thursday night, January 17, at 6:30.

Dr. Stevens' topic will be "Local History, Anchor of Our Faith." Earl F. Groner, retiring president of the Historical society, will welcome the guests and outline the activities of the society.

Dr. Nathan G. Meyer, president-elect, will present the annual gift of the society to the representatives of the Junior Historical societies of the county's high schools.

Frank B. Michaels is chairman of the program and banquet committee which also includes Roger Dunning, Mrs. Chester H. Rhodes and Mrs. Horace Walters.

A study of the report of the curator of the Monroe County Historical society museum, Mrs. Horace G. Walters, reveals a wide range of gifts, during the past year.

Items which furnished the pioneer homes in the community with personal effects worn by the pioneer families and collections of letters, deeds papers and histories for interest.

A three piece set of china used by Mrs. Cecelia Knecht Hollinshead, wife of an early Stroudsburg druggist; Col. Jacob Stroud's Windsor arm chair; a jar made in the Van Vleet glass factory in 1881; a silhouette of Sallie Phillips, wife of Judge Samuel Dreher; an antique study lamp which once belonged to Rev. Jacob T. Field, founder of the Stroudsburg Presbyterian church in 1827, and pastor of Shawnee and Middle Smithfield Presbyterian churches and the tin bonnet box used by Jimmie Stroud Burson in her travels to the Quaker meetings in many states have been added.

Personal effects range from watches and spectacles from the Stroud and Vail families, a satin cape worn by the second wife of Col. Daniel Brodhead; wedding slippers of the wife of William Brodhead Jr., a bell worn by Jane Dingman, wife of William Brodhead; the ancestral waist coat of Daniel Brodhead.

A flood of valuable documents has also been added to the Historical library including cemetery inscriptions, wedding certificates, anniversary and dedication booklets, deeds, maps, land warrants, letters, old atlases, the Washington House registers and numerous rare history books.

Current history, too, has found its place in the library files: The General Hospital Dedication booklet and dedication issue of the Daily Record; the history of Neola Methodist, and St. Mark's union church, completed by William S. Lesh; the History of the Stroudsburg Woman's club; the Buckhill Breeze memorial to Charles F. Jenkins; "A Manual of Local Government in Monroe County" by Dr. John R. Wildrick Jr.; and many others.

Among this year's donors were Mrs. Elwood Grant, Mrs. Randall H. Roberts, Aubrey Vail Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. Roe Bush, Mrs. Rhoda E. Wagner, Mrs. Helen Webb, Charles V. Predmore of Port Jervis; the children of Mrs. Edith Brodhead Lucas; Mr. and Mrs. Norman B. Dreher, Alfred L. Snyder, Mrs. A. A. Holbrook, Mrs. C. B. Staples, Mrs. Milo Raseley, Judson E. Bardwell of Sausalito, Cal.; Raymond A. Hanna of New York City; the Ann Logan Society, the Stroudsburg Woman's club; Rev. Richard D. Bergman, Mrs. Norman Fenner of Seola, Mrs. F. J. Sheble of Phila., Mrs. C. H. Dreher, Forrest J. Smith, E. A. Clarkson, J. C. Hartman, Dr. Charles S. Flagler, Mrs. W. Dolby Palmer, Mrs. Fannie Swartzelader, Mrs. A. Frank Trebble, Jacob Stroud chapter, DAR, and Mrs. Horace G. Walters.

Progressive Women Hear Themselves On Recording

Saylorsburg—The Progressive Woman's club of Saylorsburg had a chance to re-live their January program when at the conclusion of the meeting Wednesday night at the firehall in Saylorsburg, Elton Hall, manager of Radio Station WVPO, recorded the whole meeting, recorded by Joe Webster, program manager at the station.

Recorded was the welcoming address of Mrs. Marvin Krome, and the business meeting when the group voted to donate $10 to the March of Dimes. Mrs. Lizzie Fetherman reported the success of the teen-age dances sponsored by the club, and a collection was taken for the Penny Art fund.

Mrs. Clarence Budge, chairman of the civics and education department, presented Mr. Hall who discussed the functioning of radio and of radio stations.

Miss Helen Kulp, president of the Business and Professional Women's club, chairman of the special events committee for the March of Dimes explained the March of Dimes scheduled for January 31. J. L. Cohen, county chairman of the March of Dimes, showed a film on how the Mothers March will be conducted and how it has worked in other communities.

The entertainment included solos by Mrs. Grant Knowles "Winter Wonderland," "It Is No Secret" and "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

A mock wedding was presented by a group of members in original and most amusing costumes. The bride, Tiny Sunflower, was portrayed by Norma Gould, with Alice High as the bridegroom, William Parsip. Other members of the oddly assorted wedding party included: Claudia Shupp as the bridesmaid, Cynthia Snodgrass; Claire Rader as official splicer, Jonathan Sochtup; Irene Scheller as the best man, Lizzie Fetherman as the bride's mother; Blanche Shotwell as the father of the bride, Anna Schoch and Elta Rinker as the bridegroom's mother and father, Ella Shupp as

The February meeting will be held at Chestnut Hill high school auditorium with the American Home department of which Mrs. Arthur Krome is chairman, in charge of the program. Mrs. Clement Heist is chairman of the hostess committee.

Miss Louise Mae Devlin Is Bride Of Neil W. Schrack

Bethlehem—Miss Louise Mae Devlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Devlin, of Bethlehem, and Neil W. Schrack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl V. Schrack, of 539 Scott St., Stroudsburg, were married on Monday, January 7, at 11 a. m., in St. Ursula rectory, Bethlehem.

Rev. William Cavanaugh performed the ceremony, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a gown of slipper satin with a sheer yoke and a mandarin collar, and applied with lace and seed pearls. Her tiara of seed pearls held a fingertip veil of imported silk illusion and she carried a bouquet of lily-of-the-valley and carnations.

Miss Carolyn Yost, of Bethlehem, as her maid-of-honor, wore a gown of blue lace with a headpiece of yellow daisies matching the daisies and yellow daffodils of her bouquet.

Robert L. Moran, of Rochester, N. Y., served as best man.

A reception in their honor was held at the Anna Marie restaurant in Allentown.

Mr. and Mrs. Schrack will make their home in El Paso while Mr. Schrack is stationed with the U. S. Army at Fort Bliss, Texas.

The bride is a graduate of Fountain Hill high school, and of Bethlehem Business College. She has been employed at Hauser Chevrolet Co., in Bethlehem.

Mr. Schrack was graduated from Stroudsburg high school and Lehigh University.

BPW Club To Study Coming Mothers March

The Business and Professional Women's club, which is sponsoring the Mother's March in the coming March of Dimes for the fight against infantile Paralysis, will be brought up to date on the latest developments on the big project at their meeting on Thursday night at 6:15 in the William Penn Treaty room at the Penn-Stroud hotel.

Miss Helen Kulp, president of the club, is chairman of special events for the March of Dimes, and is enlisting the help of each member.

The program, arranged by Mrs. Betty Fegley, chairman, and the members of the education and vocation committee, will feature a talk by Mrs. Elizabeth Kane, and vocal solos by Mrs. Ann George.

Board Meets Today

The Planned Parenthood board meeting will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the State Community House when the state president, Mrs. Garwood, will be present. Reports on the recent meeting with William Vogt, national director, will be given and the 1952 membership and fund campaign to be conducted the second week in February will be announced.

Organization Sets Annual Meeting Date

The second annual meeting of the Monroe County Organization Public Health Nursing will be held on January 29, at the Stroud Community House according to plans made at the directors meeting last night at the General Hospital.

Paul Dellaria presided at the meeting, and Mrs. C. Edward DePuy, executive director, reported an increasing case load, particularly in the care of cancer patients. The organization plans to work closely with the Cancer society.

A vote of commendation was given Mrs. Warren Loney, staff nurse, for her services during the past month.

Meeting Postponed

The Women of the Moose, who ordinarily would meet tonight, have postponed their meeting until January 23 because of other activities.

Noble Grands Meeting

The Past Noble Grands, Rachel Brodhead Rebekah lodge will meet at the home of Mrs. Jesse Kulp, 54 North Third St., Stroudsburg, 8 p. m. Thursday.

THE
SHOPPER

Do you own a trunk? I do... a small battered relic of days gone by, with crumbling leather straps, heavy steel fixtures, and a rounded top lined with Godey print. It's a treasured reminder of an era when trunks were standard equipment in every home. So useful were they that it seems they should be just as popular today, for they serve the two-fold purpose of being wonderful traveling companions and the perfect storage space for out-of-season valuables.

Yesterday I stopped to examine a new shipment of trunks in all sizes being shown in Ruth Widmer's luggage department. Know what impressed me most? The price. In all sizes from foot locker to wardrobe, they are tagged from $19.85 to $89.50. Any bride-to-be who is thrift-minded, would be wise to invest in one. On a honeymoon to Bermuda (see Wyckoff's Travel Bureau), it could carry her prized trousseau, and later serve as a chest if she doesn't have one lined with real cedar, as shown by Sears.

While roaming the store, I accumulated information about the bargains being offered Thursday through Saturday, during the Town-Wide Clearance. But am I allowed to drop hints? NO... not here. However, if you listen this morning to the Wyckoff Shopper at 9:30 over WVPO, that's another story! And read the big Wyckoff ads in the Record tomorrow. Remember too that in every big sale it's a case of first come, best served.

In my wanderings I encountered Betty LaBarre, who fairly sparkled as she described the spring accessories shown in New York City this week. Gibson Girl blouses in bon bon colors will be further prettied with light weight, dainty, ultra-feminine scatter pins and such. There will be emphasis on blue... in every conceivable shade.

And what better way to top this grandeur than with a pretty face? Sue Edinger showed us a limited-time special offered by DuBarry. The Creme Superbe, rich with vegetable oils, which usually sells at $2.75 is selling briefly at $1.75. Ah, spring is in the air... and this heart of mine doesn't mind a bit if the first crocus blooms today.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Joe Louis is currently carrying the fight to the Professional Golfers' association in an effort to have Negroes admitted to the San Diego Open Golf tournament. At this writing it appeared as if the former heavyweight champ was about to win his argument, against the governing body that each year experiences plenty of difficulty with its members, or those wishing to be members. However, even if and when Joe does win, it's sickening to see or hear that one race or religion must be given special permission to enter any sort of athletic event.

I have been comforted on many occasions in knowing that in sports each race and religion enjoys more freedom than at any other place or in any other business in the United States. However, stories concerning the fight that Louis is now waging takes some of the starch out of my belief. Champions certainly aren't the best in their respective specialties if the fields are limited to only those any governing body wishes to have entered. Each day I hear tear spilling stories of the condition of the world—but from this angle it doesn't sound or appear as if we are doing much to clear up the various hunch on minority groups.

My slant on the persecution of various colors and creeds is strictly from an athletic angle, but it carries over to our everyday life, probably even more so than in any phase of sports. It's comforting to see a team composed of several nationalities and races, with its desire pointing at victory, rather than a pure strain of blood. The United States has been known as the "melting pot of the world" for many long years, and only golf tournaments, baseball games or any form of sports that live up to this belief are worthy of crowning a champion.

I firmly believe that from our strictly local angle there is no discrimination against any religion or color, at least in sports, and it certainly is gratifying. It must be a wonderful feeling to the kids with whom in our area to know that they have an equal right to make any athletic team in their various schools, regardless of what church they attend or the color of their skin. In this area the final score is apparently the important thing.

The Pocono Mountains Basketball league apparently got off to a good start on Monday, with Tobyhanna and West End moving out in front of the pack. Tobyhanna and Tannersville seem to have picked up their feud, just where it left off last season. These two clubs have been at each other's throats for the past three years and judging from the manner in which they battled each other on Monday, I guess we can expect plenty of close battles between the arch rivals in the future.

Speaking of the Pocono Mountains league brings to mind the fact that the baseball circuit of the same name will hold its annual election of officers on Monday, at the Lake House, Saylorsburg. Since Harold Kresge has officially retired as president, it appears the fight for the new head position rests between two men who served as officials during the 1951 campaign. Both seem to have a lot on their side and whichever one is elected, will cause no surprise. I'm only one of many that hopes the circuit will remain at ten teams for 1952, or better still, drop to eight.

Frank "Hank" Pozda, former basketball star at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, is filling a similar role with the Fort Jackson, S. C., cage machine. Pozda, a member of Uncle Sam's infantry, recently scored 21 points in one game and won the contest with a long one-hander in an overtime period. Fort Jackson at the present time has won six of seven games. Sinking those long one-handers must bring pleasant memories back to the well-liked Pozda.

The junior varsity game, between Catasauqua and Stroudsburg, didn't start until approximately 7:30 last night, due to the late arrival of the Rough Riders. Very bad driving conditions, caused by the heavy fog, brought about the late arrival. Tom Waring, Monroe county's number one baseball fan, was on hand for the second straight game to see the Mountaineers in action. Tom now has one win and the same number of setbacks to his credit.

There is much concern in Tobyhanna today, regarding the knee injury suffered by Coolbaugh's Harry Dailey last night against Chestnuthill. Dailey is one of the key figures in Coach Don Wismer's setup this year. The picture is doubly dark with Tobyhanna Township set to invade Coolbaugh on Friday. Al Rossick, Coolbaugh center, is also playing in second gear, due to an illness.

Catasauqua Inflicts Third Defeat On Stroudsburg

Second Half Rally Falls Short Of Mark

A strong display of basketball in the second half failed to make up for a 16-point deficit at halftime and Stroudsburg High school went down to defeat at the hands of a powerful brown and white clad Catasauqua High cage machine, last night 71-61, before a near capacity crowd in the W. Main St. gymnasium. It was the third loss in four Lehigh Valley League games for the Mountaineers, while Catty ran up its fourth win in as many starts against circuit opposition.

Stroudsburg managed to gain some revenge by outlasting the Catty yearlings in the opening contest, 37-35, as Bill Metzgar led the scoring parade with a total of 13 markers.

Catty used its superior height to dominate the boards during the first 16 minutes and several wild Stroudsburg passes added to the visiting total, as the Rough Riders, after a late arrival, rode into an early lead that they never relinquished.

The visiting charges of Coach Bob Mushrush used the fast break to good advantage throughout the game and quickly moved into a 6-2 lead and increased the advantage to 22-12 at the end of the first stanza.

Catty, with Don Leggett and Ken James taking virtually every rebound off both boards, picked up 15 more important points during the second eight-minute stanza, while the Mountaineers were limited to nine counters. The Rough Riders led at the halfway mark, 37-21.

Stroudsburg put its all-court press to working early in the second half and used it so effectively that the Mountaineers were able to hold a slight advantage over Catty, but never enough to seriously threaten the visiting contingent.

Gene Caski and Dave "Muscles" Everitt, the second-half twins, teamed with reliable Jack Newell to lead the Mountaineers to a 23-22 advantage in the third quarter and 17-12 during the final eight minutes.

Caski, Everitt and Newell combined to score 33 of the 39 points accounted for by the Mountaineers in the second half.

Stroudsburg was hampered by the loss of Karl Weingartner on fouls with seven minutes remaining in the game, while Catty lost the services of Bob Wert, also on fouls, with about a minute remaining on the official clock.

Caski and Newell put on brilliant scoring displays for the home team. Caski accounted for 23 markers on nine field goals and five charity shots, while Newell came through with seven goals from the floor and four from the charity line. Ed Roth, Leggett and Ed Koons, with 15, 14 and 14 points respectively, led the winning attack.

Stroudsburg made 15 of 23 shots from the foul line, while Catty made good on 17 of 29 tosses from the same distance.

Two Games On Agenda

Two Biddy Basketball games are on the agenda at the Monroe County YMCA today. Wyckoff-Sears and Lime Material clash at 4 p.m., while Clemens' Service Station and Koren's Roofers come to blows a half-hour later.

Duquesne Moves Into Top Ten

New York (AP) — Duquesne's fast improving and unbeaten basketball team moved into the top ten for the first time this season in the Associated Press poll as Kansas held on to its number one ranking by a narrow margin over Illinois.

Duquesne (11-0), Kansas (13-0), Illinois (11-0), Iowa (11-0) and St. Bonaventure (9-0) are the only major college teams still able to boast perfect records. All five are in the top ten as Duquesne jumped from sixteenth to seventh place.

The law of averages caught up with previously undefeated Indiana and Seton Hall during the week. Indiana was beaten by both Ohio State and Iowa while Siena knocked off Seton Hall. Indiana dropped from fourth place to fourteenth and Seton Hall slipped from ninth to twelfth.

TTHS Keeps Perfect Record Intact By Defeating Polk

Kresgeville—Tobyhanna Township took another step toward a third straight Monroe County league title last night, when the charges of Coach Carl Majer won over Polk High, 62-30, here on the losing squad's home floor.

Polk gained a measure of revenge by winning the low scoring junior varsity game, 15-13, from the visiting yearlings.

TTHS held the upper hand in every period, with Norman Lewis, Bob Miller and Murlin May carrying the bulk of the scoring load throughout the contest.

The visiting squad led at the end of the first eight minutes, 15-8, and increased its advantage to 31-14 at the halfway mark.

Polk made a battle of it during the third stanza, but the visiting maroon and gold clad contingent again held the upper hand, 14-13, to enter the home stretch on the long end of a 45-27 count.

TTHS made certain of victory during the last eight minutes of play, by piling up a 17-3 advantage, as Polk was limited to a single goal from the floor and the same number from the foul line.

The home team could make only eight of 30 shots from the charity stripe, while TTHS converted 12 of 24 free throws.

Barrett Turns Pocono Into Second Victim

Tannersville — Barrett ran up its second Monroe County League victory without a defeat here last night with a convincing 56-35 decision over the blue and white clad Pocono High five. The visiting contingent moved into the lead in the first quarter and was never headed, although outscored in the third quarter.

However, Pocono's highly regarded junior varsity machine rolled over the Barrett yearlings, 31-17, in the preliminary encounter.

Barrett, matching Pocono's blue and white colors, took off at the opening whistle and was in the driver's seat at the end of the first eight minutes, 13-8.

Carbon Copy
The second quarter was almost a carbon copy of the first as Barrett, paced by Ralph Williams, racked up a 13-7 advantage, to lead 26-15 at the halfway mark.

Coach Ed Kriner's Barrett contingent ran into some trouble in the third period, when an aroused Pocono club had the better of the going, 12-7, but the home quintet was still on the short end of a 33-37 count going into the last period.

Barrett made doubly certain of victory during the final round by running up 23 points, while Pocono could account for only eight.

Pocono was handicapped by the loss of Bob Hall, high scoring center, who fouled out of the contest just before the end of the first half.

Barrett made 12 of 30 free throws, while Pocono connected on 13 of 29 attempts from the same distance.

Kircher Signs Football Pact

Fullman, Wash. (AP) — Alton Kircher yesterday signed a five year contract as head football coach at Washington State College.

Kircher, offered the job Saturday, had been scheduled to go to the University of Iowa as an assistant to Forest Evashevski who resigned here ten days ago.

Terms of the five-year pact were not announced. But Dr. William Pearl, acting president of WSC, said "they compare favorably with salaries paid other coaches in the Pacific Coast Conference." Evashevski got $12,500 here last year.

Cavaliers Seek Second Victory As Bangor Provides Opposition In East Stroudsburg Gym

East Stroudsburg will be out to land its second Lehigh-Northampton league win to go with three setbacks tonight, when the Cavaliers play host to Bangor, a club that prior to last night had won two of its five league outings.

Tonight's junior varsity encounter will get under way at 6:45, while the main event is carded for approximately 8:15.

East Stroudsburg opened the present campaign with a decision victory over Nazareth, but since that time has suffered successive setbacks at the hands of Parkland, Wilson Borough and Coplay. The Wilson Borough and Coplay reversals were a total of three points, two against Wilson and one last Friday against Coplay.

Coach Dick Forster, extremely anxious to break into the win column once again, will undoubtedly stick with the same array that has lost three of its four games this year by a total of four points.

This means that Jack Tredinick and either Joe Chase or John "Juice" Arnst will handle the forward positions, while reliable Ray Steele operates out of his usual center spot. Paul "Candy" Miller and Dick Newton will handle the guard duties at the opening whistle.

Bangor on the other hand will send a lineup into battle featuring Joe Plimperie and Asa Pysker at the forward spots and Jim Rowlands at center. The guard positions will be handled by Bob Egbert and Joe Heard.

The Cavaliers weren't slated to do battle last night, but will return to action on Friday.

Coolbaugh Takes Measure Of Chestnuthill; Dailey Injured

Tobyhanna—Coolbaugh High took the measure of Chestnuthill last night, 44-35, but in so doing lost the services of Harry Dailey, star guard, for an indefinite period. Dailey was forced from the game early in the second round with a twisted knee.

Coolbaugh made a clean sweep of hostilities by also drawing down the victory honors in the junior varsity encounter, 26-16.

Deficit
Coach Don Wismer's contingent trailed by one point, 10-9, at the end of the first period, but the green and white clad cage machine fought from behind in the second period and held the upper hand the remainder of the distance, although outscored in the third quarter, 11-9.

Coolbaugh's 15-10 edge in the second stanza and its convincing 11-4 margin in the final round decided the ball game. The home team held a 24-20 edge at the halfway mark.

Chestnuthill made nine of 17 foul shots, while Coolbaugh swished the nets on 12 of 23 occasions from the charity line.

Biggs Crew, Trumatic Score Court Verdicts

Biggs' Restaurant and Trumatic took scored victories in the Senior High League basketball action at the Monroe County YMCA yesterday. Biggs' five rolled over the Trumatic, 42-32, while Trumatic took the measure of the Lemons, 31-20.

The opening contest was close until the second half, when the winning aggregation stretched its two-point halftime advantage into a winning margin of ten counters.

Early Lead

Action in the nightcap featured Trumatic in the driver's seat from the opening whistle. However, the winning team put the game on ice with a strong third stanza. Only in the second round did the Lemons manage to outscore the Trumatic.

Landsdowne, with 13 points, was the big point producer for the afternoon.

Gap Firemen To Sponsor Benefit Dinner

Delaware Water Gap — Excellent support from citizens of this community and vicinity and the Stroudsburgs is expected tonight for the benefit full-course Italian dinner to be served starting at 5:30 by firemen and ladies of the auxiliary in the fire house.

Proceeds of the affair will be devoted to the building fund of the Delaware Water Gap Volunteer Fire Co.

Men and women of the auxiliary with community assistance erected a new fire house which has been in use since last April. The old fire hall was not only inadequate to house fire fighting equipment, but for meetings.

Using available funds raised through carnivals and other events the project was satisfactorily completed, but only a portion of the cost was met. For that reason, tonight's dinner and other events are planned to obtain funds to complete payments.

A patron list now includes 168 persons. Serving will continue until all ticket purchasers are fed.

Members of the auxiliary will serve. The firemen's committee includes:

Chief Fred Decker and Philip Farber, co-chairmen; Bill Kitchen, Jack LaBar, Arthur Barnes, John Jennings Jr., George Hauser, Philip Begeloff, George Henry.

Milan's famous La Senia Opera House was built in 1778.

RABBIT STOCKING—Cherry Valley Rod & Gun club has released 252 rabbits on club lands. Bunnies are shown taking off for cover as Bud Neyhart of game committee opens the crate and Britton Detrick "snaps" his camera.

Cherry Valley Rod-Gun Club Releases Rabbits On Lands

Cherry Valley Rod & Gun club members have released 252 rabbits on lands of the organization, centering generally in Cherry Valley, Snyder'sville and near Saylorsburg.

Some 42 cases with six rabbits to a case were distributed in most ideal sections to bolster the small game hunting sport.

Cost of the rabbits was $300. The project was under the direction of a game committee consisting of Bud Neyhart, Joe Melvin and Ray Gumm, secretary.

Yale University was started on Oct. 9, 1701, with the donation of some books by a group of clergymen.

State Taking Orders For Trees, Shrubs

District Forester E. C. Pyle of Department of Forests and Waters here said yesterday orders for trees and shrubs for Spring planting should be submitted promptly. Proper forms are obtainable at his office at 1081 W. Main St., in Stroudsburg.

Pyle noted that the Spring planting season is close. Prompt application on nursery stock application form FWFE-5 and shrubs and vines form FWFE-5a will give the farmer or land owner proper choice.

Stock is particularly suitable for plantings in old fields or on steep slopes. Available species include red pine, white pine, Norway spruce, white spruce, hemlock, larch, black locust and sugar maple along with 11 other desirable species. Trees secured from the Commonwealth must be used for the growing of timber products. The law prohibits the use of such trees for ornamental planting or for the use or sale of Christmas trees.

A large selection of shrubs and vines are also available including bitternut, multiflora rose, dogwood and eight other species. Multiflora rose makes an excellent living fence and provides food and cover for game. All of these shrubs and vines have fruits that last well into the winter to feed that covey of quail or brood of ringneck pheasants that has been hanging around the edge of the farm, Pyle explained.

Lions Elect Delegates To State, National Conventions

Stroudsburg Lions, at their dinner meeting in the Penn-Stroud last night, directed the secretary to send to Harry Clark of the hotel staff, the sympathy of the Lions on his recent accident. He sustained a fall and is now confined to his home in Bethlehem.

Thanks were received from Mrs. Robert Hartman for the club's sympathy in her bereavement in the death of her husband and from William Sunday, for courtesies in his bereavement caused by the death of his wife.

Thanks were received for toys sent to a local family.

The club, looking forward to summer, took preliminary action on the coming state and international conventions. Delegates to the International meeting at Mexico City were named as follows: William P. Deering, T. Manning Curtis, William Hinton and Jack Kitchen. Nominations for alternate-delegates were made as follows: Edward A. Boushell, Robert Haigh, Mahlon Serfass, Floyd Butz, Harold Miller, John Regan and Rudy Mannheim. Four are to be chosen and election will be held at a later meeting.

Jack Kitchen was program chairman and introduced Byron H. Rogers, sales manager of American Airlines, who spoke on Mexico and exhibited a colored motion picture. The machine was operated by Ben Coolbaugh. The film was furnished through the courtesy of
